Sirs,

I cannot imagine that you really have something to say in this matter. Each and every decent person would always stop this machiavellian behaviour if he/she had the power and was really working for common interest.

Since i must presume you obviously are doing the last, there must be something wrong with the first. Now, that will not wonder anybody if you take into account what kind of fascistic country the USA is fast becoming.

Glad, i don't live there.

Yours truly,

Steven Lobbezoo
